Writing your Podcast

Instructions

Using the provided template, indicate the section of your podcast (introduction, interview, etc.). In the next column, indicate who is speaking. Next, write the words the speaker says—if this isn't meant to be strictly scripted, then give both a general idea of what might be said along with sample dialogue. Underline words that should be emphasized, and draw a vertical line to indicate a dramatic pause. Use the final column for any additional comments regarding such things as tone, background music, or sound effects.

| # | Section | Speaker(s) | Words | Comments |
